

Christmas Greetings

Just a few notes of our 2016 activities. I retired from East Pointe Church at the end of March turning 66. Donna is currently teaching four and five year olds at the East Pointe Academy. She enjoys teaching that age level. Retired now allowed a little more travel time working around Donna's schedule. We utilized our time share just south of Daytona, made additional trips to Largo, Florida to my dad's home and to North Carolina, not to mention a few day trips to places like Georgia.

Shaun and Kristin and kids moved from Jacksonville (Orange Park) to Sophia, North Carolina (Just south of Greensboro).

I took the opportunity since retirement to catch up on things that I never could get to including some landscaping in our front and back yards, organizing around the house and began to convert old home movies, slides, and photos to media files. This is a slow and lengthy process and many photos to go. Loving retirement!

Merry Christmas!
